Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 1-48 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kerker et al (3744745) in view of Henderson et al (4685643).

Kerker et al (3744745) chines on both sides of the engine and shows a leading edge flap on the wing in the area of the engine the chine 24 is mounted on the outboard side of the nacelle, therefore it has a "mounting base". Since the chine is sized to be effective in a particular position on the engine to form a vortex over the wing than it is sized as functionally claimed in the application. Kerker et al (3744745) stated that prevents separation at high angles of attack when the flaps are used which not only increases lift but since separation is avoided this will also have a lower drag when there is no separation. Henderson et al shows a chine that is more than 25 % of the nacelle for the same purpose as that of Kerker et al. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to size the chines of Kerker et al as taught by Henderson et al since it will enhance the effectiveness of the chines. The use modeling or empirical testing are well known and obvious procedures and It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to so design the chines of the above references.

Applicant's remarks have been considered but are not deemed persuasive since the sizing of the chine is deemed to be obvious in view of Henderson et al.

1. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
